Is Nervousness a Yankee Notion?

A New Theory by a New Doctor.

He Claims that Nervousness is an American Imaginative Disease,

And Originated in the United States Within the Last Fifty Years,

Let the Doctors Say Whether that Statement will Stand the Test.

Dr. Benson Says It Will Not; That Nervousness is as Old as Mankind,

AND THAT NERVOUSNESS HAS EXISTED EVER SINCE NERVOUS SYSTEMS WERE CREATED. NERVOUSNESS EXISTS UNDER MANY NAMES, AND APPEARS IN MANY FORMS OR TYPES.

As Sick Headache, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Sleeplessness, Paralysis, Hysteria, Melancholy, St. Vitus' Dance, Asthma, &c. But all of these different forms are brought about by some pressent existing cause. But no nervous system is subject to these diseases unless the nerve fluid is in an impoverished condition, or suffering from an irritable state or condition, and can only be cured by a remedy that enriches the nerve fluid and allays nervous irritation, and this is absolutely accomplished by DR. BENSON'S CELERY AND CHAMOMILE PILLS. They positively remove the causes of all nervous diseases, and the natural result is a sure, a complete and permanent cure.

DR. BENSON'S CELERY AND CHAMOMILE PILLS are prepared expressly to cure HEADACHES, Neuralgia and Nervousness, and will cure any case, no matter how obstinate it may be of long standing. Backache, pains or soreness of the back, pains or neuralgia, nervousness or sleeplessness. Price 50 cents a box, sent post free to any address, or may be ordered through any druggist.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shaker's Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regaining and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the prescription, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in the preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

JOHN CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

Dear Sir—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it.

N. A. BRIGGS Esq: Dear Sir—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it.

Yours very truly,

CHARLES CLARKE, Druggist.

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was the best as well as it is the best of all remedies called Sarsaparilla, none of which bear any comparison to this rare preparation, and quality of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

THE HOODLUM.

An entirely original product of San Francisco is the hoodlum. Ordinarily he is ragged and dirty. On Sunday, however, he is arrayed in short black coat, old-fashioned "spring-bottom" trowsers that cover three-quarters of his high-heeled boots, felt hat with a sugar-loaf crown, and a necktie so lurid that it would light up the Harlem tunnel. His face is generally meagre, sallow and upwholesome. His shock of long hair shines with an odorous imitation of Macassar. He walks with the Bowery swagger, and usually hand in hand with the female of his species. She is coarse, long-tongued, gypsy-faced, in cheap and gaudy dress, a "fine fore" hat, with a flaming ribbon, set jauntily on her head. She chews gum with solid contentment and the rotary jaw-motion of the domestic cow. She rattles off glibly the slang of the street, and, if vexed, she shows unexpected resources in blasphemy. Her the hoodlum calls his "chunk." There are thousands of these creatures in the city who are scarcely more than children in age, but who have absorbed all the vices, European and Oriental.

The centre of the hoodlum's activity is known as "Tar Flat"—a low-lying quarter, thickly covered with small houses. Here he bids defiance to the police. One of his favorite pastimes is to come down like the Assyrian, under cloud of night, upon the peaceful German corner-grocery, demand unlimited schooners of lager, maul about the mazzard the proprietor who refuses, leave the spigots running, and depart for fresh fields of conquest just as the Irish guardian of the peace appears in the distance. He delights also to telegauer the Chinese washhouse, and bombard it with stones. If he can break the windows and soil the clean linen on the roof, he retires with the conviction that he is a public benefactor. These sports have become hazardous enough, of late, as the police justices do not seem to appreciate the point of such playful practices. Not a dirty house is safe from the hoodlum's depredations. He confiscates gas fixtures, lead pipe, window-glass,—everything that may be sold to the junk dealer.

He is the terror of solitary pedestrians in the suburbs. He loves to loiter about the street corners after night fall, smoke cigarettes, tell ribald stories, and insult any passer-by who looks incapable of resenting the outrage. If attacked he invariably whips out knife or pistol, and he is reckless in the use of either. He cruises about the Barbary Coast, a place given up to thieves, street-walkers and sailors, and is ready for any crime. He forms the larger share of the white patrons of the cheap Chinese opium dens. The hoodlums of both sexes herd together like beasts, in large, squalid lodging-houses, where the amateurs in vice and crime receive a professional polish. Half the persons arrested for street drunkenness and assaults are Hoodlums. The "Black Maria," which disgorges its load at the police courts every morning, carries many of this class whose beardless faces show their precocious debauchery. The hoodlum evil has grown with the growth of hard times. There are very few manufactories to give employment to the half-educated children of the poor. Necessity drives them into the street and inclination keeps them there.—Cor. of the N. Y. Times.

THE BACKWOODS VIOLIN.

An amusing scene took place on the train from the West on which Remenyi was a passenger, recently, and was witnessed by the writer hereof. Not far west of Iowa City a great green, awkward young fellow lumbered into the smoking car bearing in his arms an ancient and badly damaged violin case. He seated himself just in front of a weather-beaten individual fully as unique as himself, but evidently some forty years older. The ancient person surveyed the youth with lively curiosity and then asked what he had "thar."

"A fiddle," replied the youth with the right unpe and watery eyes. Forthwith the old man besought him to play a few tunes.

The youth declined, however, on the theory that "it was agin the rule to fiddle on the keers." Just at this moment conductor Ackley came through the car, and the old fellow appealed to him to know if the young man could not be permitted to do a little fiddling. There was a twinkle in Ackley's eye as he remembered that he had had Remenyi in the rear car, and he at once replied with great cordiality: "Yes, sir; the young man can play all he wants to."

With this the young man at once brought forth from the case a wheezy old violin with an American eagle painted on the back.

He began to tune up and conductor Ackley passed on through the train until he came to Remenyi in the palace car. He told the great musician that there was a remarkable violinist in the smoking car—in fact he had never heard such playing in his life—and advised Remenyi to go forward and hear him. Forthwith Remenyi and one or two of his party rushed forward to the smoking car where they encountered a remarkable scene. The passengers had gathered around the young man with the fiddle, and shouts of laughter greeted the musician as he scraped through the first bars of the "Arkansaw Traveler" with variations.

If the young man accepted the ear as a mark of encouragement and sawed away with renewed energy. Remenyi, who was evidently unknown to the passengers, took a seat just across the aisle and leaned heavily in the general laugh. When the young man had finished the "Arkansas Traveler" the old man just behind him took the violin, saying: "I hain't played any fur forty year. I married me a wife and she wouldn't have it, but I reckon I kin scrape a catgut yet." A fresh sally of laughter broke forth as the old man "tuned the hdule" and began scraping on "Jump Jim Crow."

It was an agonizing piece of melody, and kept the audience in a fever of laughter. When the man finished, Remenyi asked for the violin, and it was passed over to him. The train had stopped at a small station, and the rumble of the car wheels was stilled into quiet. Remenyi drew the bow, and the grins slid on the faces of the passengers began to melt away with marvelous rapidity. Immediately there fell upon their astonished ears the opening notes of a beautiful fantasia, whose sweet witchery would charm the dullest.

The wheezy old violin seemed to rejoice under the hand of its first master, and gave forth such music as it never did before and never will again. The gaping, astonished crowd listened until Remenyi stopped and then broke in with rapturous applause and besought him to continue. But no—he held up the bow in gleeful derision and exclaimed vehemently: "Can't play with that—only three hairs on it—no, no, no!"

He handed the violin back to the youth, who thrust it into the case and left the car at once, vowing that he would never play another tune.—Iowa City Republican.

During the storm of Thursday night, April 29th quite a disaster occurred almost in Rockport harbor. Capt. John Beal of schooner W. H. Lovett, in running in the harbor miscalculated his distance from Indian Island light in the storm, and run onto Lowell's rock that makes out from the island, and in a short time the schooner became a total wreck; the cargo of 2200 bushels of corn was entirely lost. The W. H. Lovett had just been repaired at an expense of $800 and this was her second trip to Boston. Capt. Beal, who owned one quarter of her, is an energetic captain and feels the loss keenly. The Seargo was owned mostly by Carleton, Norwood & Co., and was insured. The vessel was uninsured.

A short distance from Buena Vista, says the Leadville (Col.) Chronicle, is a cave inhabited by spiders, which differ from other spiders in their enormous size, and are quite useful to the needy people of that region. The cave was discovered last December by a party of sight-seers, and the spiders and their work were witnessed.

On entering the cave one is first struck by the funny looking webs. They are worked like other webs of spiders, but every fibre is ten times as large as the ones woven by ordinary spiders. On passing further into the cave the spiders are encountered. They are about the size of small birds and make a strange sound while weaving their web. Their webs are so tough and the fibres so large that it is almost an impossibility to break down a web.

Some four weeks ago, while looking at the cave, a miner got to examining the webs. Their strands were about the size of a number 12 thread, and he thought that they could be used for thread. Having a needle in his possession, he broke off one of the strands and found that it fitted the needle. Sewing on a loose button to test the efficacy, he found it as strong as silk thread, and that it answered his every purpose. Since then the people have flocked in and carried away hoads of webs, but the spiders do not appear to object in the least.

There is some talk among capitalists of starting a thread factory there and using the webs for thread.

HAPPY THOUGHT! LET US ALL HAVE A VOICE IN THE MATTER.—Noble Breeder of Shorthorns: "Well, you are a splendid fellow, and no mistake!" "Prize Bull: "So would you be, my Lord, if you could only have chosen your pa and ma as carefully and judiciously as you chose mine!"—Punch.

LOBSTER PIE.—Cut the meat of the lobster into large pieces; put a rich puff paste around the edge of a deep pudding dish; then put in a layer of lobster and a layer of oysters; season high with pepper, salt, and mace; cover it quarter of an inch thick with bread crumbs, and put little bits of butter all over them, continuing in this way until the dish is full, making the top layer of lobster and oysters. Boil the liquor from the oysters, strain it, and turn it into the fish. Cover with puff paste and bake half an hour.

LOBSTER PATTIES.—Chop the meat very fine and mash the coral smooth. Grate the yolks and mash the whites of three or four very hard-boiled eggs, and mix with the meat, seasoning with salt, cayenne pepper, pounded mace, and a very little grated lemon peel, and adding a small piece of fresh butter. Put it into a stew-pan add a little water, put over the fire till it just comes to a boil; then remove from the fire.

Line your patty pans with puff paste, and bake before filling them. As soon as the lobster has become partially boiled, remove the crust from the patty pans, and fill them with the mixture to the top.

LOBSTER CROQUETTES.—Take the meat of the lobster, with the coral and spawn, and pound up fine with a pestle. Add half its bulk of grated bread crumbs, and season with pepper, salt and mace. Mix with it four tablespoonfuls of melted butter, and two yolks of eggs. Form into the shape of croquettes, dip into the white of egg and bread crumbs, and fry a pale brown in boiling lard.

THE DANGER OF DRINK. It is notorious that a sudden excess of indulgence in alcohol induces some form of acute mental derangement or stupor, and that a graduated indulgence is well nigh as certain to entail a confirmed condition of chronic aberration, more or less determinate. The tendency of alcoholic agents is, as a rule, toward premature physical decay, and has been found to lean quite as perceptibly toward premature mental deterioration. The action of the intoxicant, when regularly taken, even in small doses, ultimately exerts a mischievous influence on structural parts of the body. The sense of muscular and mental fatigue is rendered easy of development, and the nutritive function is apt to suffer, and in many organizations to suffer rapidly and fatally. Unfortunately, the craving increases as the animal powers decline, and the drift toward disintegration is greatly quickened in its course. In the early stages of injury from alcohol, what are known as the craving and the sinking periods are quite distinct, but they gradually approach, and in the end become substantially contemporaneous.

DISCREDITABLE TACTICS.

Surely the true friends of the great chieftain who conquered the rebellion and the twice elected Chief Magistrate who has received the ovation of the world cannot help feeling that the men who are trying to force his third term candidacy upon an unwilling people are by their discreditable tactics dragging the ex President down deep in political mire It is notorious that the Pennsylvania convention was thimble rigged into the nominal support of the third term contrary to the wishes of the delegates and the people It is equally notorious that the New York convention was controlled by the same unscrupulous methods the premature calling of caucuses and the most artful management Only a few days ago the Maryland convention that was largely for Blaine was boldly throttled by a committee which appointed a temporary chairman who arbitrarily ruled out Blaine delegates and ruled in men who had not been chosen The sentiment in the State is so strong for Blaine, that the packed convention did not dare refuse to pass the resolution requesting the delegates to use all honorable means for his nomination but they grabbed a large number of the delegates that properly belonged to him

And now in Chicago the most discreditable of all the proceedings have just transpired Every political device has been resorted to by the champions of the third term and the Cook County primaries were called out of the usual time and with only three days notice to steal a march on the Blaine men That game did not work and the primaries of Chicago and vicinity went heavily anti Grant But the third term managers would not accept their defeat in good faith but boasted that they would yet change the result At the opening of the Cook County Convention Monday the facts were disclosed in the attempt of the chairman of the committee that called the Convention to seize control of it by the appointment of a temporary chairman who would repeat the Maryland game of packing the delegations The members promptly squelched the attempt by exercising their right to control their own organization by their own votes and when they elected their presiding officer the Grant delegates withdrew and set up a minority convention at one of the hotel The Convention proceeded to elect the 92 delegates of Cook County to the State Convention for Washburne 58 for Blaine 34 The men who met at the hotel voted to send a contesting Grant delegation.

It is marvellous that Gen Grant will permit anybody to make such use of his name and yet such a precious humbug as the Boston Advertiser eagerly gulps down all this log rolling and coolly declares that the distinguishing feature of Gen Grant's candidacy is the spontaneity of his popular support and that the machine politicians are all against him And the N Y Times which flung a broadside of malicious abuse at Secretary Sherman the other day coolly declares It is plain that if Gen Grant is nominated it will be in spite of the machine If his nomination is prevented it will be by the machine and in spite of a decided popular preference

A BRAZEN LIAR.

Under the above heading, the Commercial of last evening printed one of those highly polished and refined editorials that so ornament its columns of late, in which it pleasantly applied to us the mild epithets of "champion liar" "Jasmine Goliah, contemptible pitiful and cowardly wretch," etc and accused us of promulgated falsehood in asserting that it had demanded that ex Councillor Foster "be honored for his share in the counting-out infamy" Our calm and sweet and truthful contemporary declares that it made no complaint of strictures upon the ex Councillor's "public acts which are properly open to the manly criticism of all," and that it had not the slightest reference to any criticism that might be made upon his official acts In view of our contemporary's epithets and asseverations as to what it did not say about Mr Foster, and with a desire to aid it in locating that brazen liar, we quote from its issue of Friday last the following portion of the editorial upon which our comments were based

"In the warm and friendly greeting we desire to extend to Mr Foster upon his arrival here, we wish we could forget the unwarranted and unprovoked, and also cowardly attacks made upon him in his absence not only in private, but in public—in the pulpit and out of it—by the clergy as well as by laymen—upon his official acts—to say nothing of the malignant assaults made upon him by those with whom he had been for long years associated in business, and solely because Mr. Foster, with his associates in the Council, together with Gov Garcelon, had he courage to discharge their official duties under the well known and unquestioned provisions of the Constitution as sanctioned and expounded by our courts, and in accordance with the established precedents of the Republican party. Upon this rock of truth and justice Mr Foster may rest secure in the assurance that he will be supported and his course vindicated by an overwhelming majority of his constituents"

The people of this community will not make any mistake as to the nature of that insolent challenge, and they will know how to meet it.

DELEGATES TO CHICAGO.

Senator Blaine Ahead.

[From the N Y Tribune]

Six hundred of the 756 delegates who will compose the Chicago convention have been elected They come from twenty eight States and six territories Ten States and three Territories are still to elect Of these 600 delegates the Tribune, after a most careful examination of the conflicting claims of the partisans of the various candidates assigns 241 to Senator Blaine, 224 to General Grant, 91 to Secretary Sherman 31 to Senator Edmunds and 13 to the Hon E B Washburne This gives no candidate a majority of the convention 379 votes Mr Blaine lacks 138 votes General Grant 155 Secretary Sherman 288 and Mr Edmunds 306 In making this estimate the Tribune assigns to Mr Blaine only 14 of the New York delegates and 25 of the Pennsylvania delegates although the Blaine Club in Washington claims 22 of the former and 28 of the latter

The States which are still to elect delegates are Nevada on May 11, Florida Michigan and West Virginia on May 12 Illinois Nebraska and Minnesota on May 19 Alabama on May 20 Louisiana on May 21 and Colorado on May 25. They will elect 146 delegates There are four to be elected in Massachusetts, and six from the Territories

Senate

A communication was received from the Secretary of the Interior stating that his estimate of March 5, 1880, for deficiency in arrears of army and navy pensions had been found insufficient, and transmitting additional estimates of the same.

Several petitions in favor of the Eaton tariff commission bill were presented, among them one numerously signed by New England manufacturers, in offering which Mr Dawes called attention to the large number of such petitions presented since the bill was favorably reported from the committee. Mr Bayard will, if possible, call the bill up to-morrow.

Mr Hoar announced that as Mr. McDonald would not be present to-morrow he would not call up the Geneva award bill.

Mr Burnside moved to postpone the ... and consider the House joint resolution relative to extending the ... survey into State. Pending the debate the morning hour expired and Mr Hoar proceeded to oppose the Spofford-Kellogg resolutions.

Mr Hoar concluded by saying if it became necessary hereafter, the challenge of the Senator (Jonas) to investigate the means by which he and certain of his colleagues obtained their seats might be accepted and if so the country would hardly be much aroused by the charge that their opponents were flaunting the bloody shirt. THE ILLINOIS CONTEST.

COOK COUNTY CONVENTION SOLIDLY ANTI-GRANT!

Thirty-four Delegates for Blaine!

Failure of Attempted Trickery.

The Grant Men Secede.

Attempt of a Committeeman to Play the Maryland Game of Packing the Convention—Scene of Disorder.

CHICAGO May 10 When Singer, the chairman of the Cook County Republican Convention, called the convention to order this morning a scene of the wildest confusion ensued, followed by a bolt of Grant supporters. Singer claimed the right to nominate a temporary chairman which was followed by cries of "No, never" and shouts of "Anthony! Anthony."

The Convention Insists Upon the Right of Its Majority to Organize—The Committee's Snap Game Defeated

A delegate put the question, and Anthony was declared temporary chairman. Singer held his ground and crowds gathered on the stage pushing and shoving it until the police came forward and separated the excited delegates. Both Singer and Anthony insisted on their rights and put questions to the convention. At the same time Anthony declared his secretary elected, and Singer nominated and declared Strickland elected Chairman. Anthony appointed a Committee on credentials, and while the credentials were being handed to the Secretary the Grant delegates noisily protested.

The Grant Delegates Bolt.

Anthony called on the police to clear the aisles and protect the legitimate delegates, and Singer, from the platform announced the convention adjourned to the Palmer House and quit the hall, followed by about 75 delegates who left their credentials in the hands of the Secretary appointed by Anthony. The Palmer House Grant delegates organized a separate convention, a committee on credentials was appointed, and during their retirement addresses were made denouncing the other organization as a riot.

The Regular Convention—Delegates Chosen 58 for Washburne and 34 for Blaine.

After the report of the committee on credentials appointed by the anti-Grant convention the roll was called, resulting as follows Washburne 90½ delegates, Blaine 53½, Grant 1 as present. Fifty-seven Grant delegates were given as the official number of the bolters. Three delegates from each Senatorial district were then appointed to select delegates to the State Convention, and a resolution passed instructing them to select of Cook county's 92 delegates 58, in favor of Washburne and 34 in favor of Blaine.

The Bolting Delegation.

The convention at the Palmer House elected a solid delegation of 92 Grant men to the State Convention.

Thirty-four Delegates for Blaine.

The anti Grant convention after ratifying the delegates, adjourned. The delegation stands, Washburne 58 Blaine 34.

More Anti-Grant Delegates

CHICAGO, May 10 Specials to the Tribune give the following results of the county conventions: Coles county, 7 Grant, Perry county, 4 Grant, Pope county, 1 Grant, 2 anti Grant.

BRADFORD Pa., May 10. One pump station, two 25 000 and one 9,000 barrel tank illuminating oil are burning and two tidewater tanks are most sure to burn. Nothing else is in danger. Forty oil wells and eighty buildings are estimated to have burned.

The heat is so intense that it repels workmen in digging trenches or building dams. Unless a high wind prevails the fire can be confined to the oil tanks. The loss in Rickford is estimated at $60,000 with light insurance. Several dangerous fires now raging in the woods near Barnum City and Coleville Oil property are thickly located through the forests. A large number of men are fighting the flames. A heavy rain has extinguished the fires.

CONSTANTINOPLE May 10. The British Embassy here and the Porte are exchanging angry notes relative to the suppression of the Levant Herald and the editor's subsequent imprisonment for publishing a new number of his journal. The last issue of his paper contains grave charges against the Grand Vizer which would by trial gain greater publicity. The Porte insists upon its right to inflict summary punishment. The Porte has not yet succeeded in arranging for the payment of salaries and the distress among the officers is great. Capt Pasha was mobbed by women whose husbands were away on service. A GOOD DAY'S WORK. Willis Patten and his crew of four overhaulers surveyed at Messrs. After the adjournment of the Dominion Parliament Messrs. Pope and Ives will visit this city to complete the negotiations.

The schooner Village Bell, Capt. Moor, of Tremont, picked up a whale last week that measured some seventy feet in length and estimated to make twenty barrels of oil. It had been fired into or "barbed" as it is termed by some one who lost quite a prize for a small vessel.

ANNUAL MEETING. At the annual meeting of the members of the Penobscot Savings Bank yesterday, the following Directors were chosen G. L. Boynton, Charles Hamlin P T Jones and Thomas Cary, of Hampden. At a subsequent meeting of the Directors G. L. Boynton was elected President, and Edwin Clark, Treasurer.

NO APPROPRIATION. The officials at the Custom House in this city have been notified by the department at Washington, that unless an appropriation is made by Congress at once the gas and water must be shut off from the building on Wednesday. This same thing occurred several years ago and the post-office was lighted for a time with kerosene. Postmaster Bruhum proposes this time, however, to continue the gas until an appropriation is made, defraying the expense himself.

THE SEA FLOWER, Capt. Joseph Wentworth, will make her first trip to North Port the first of next week. She will make daily trips to and from Northport and Bangor, touching at all the intermediate landings.

DELEGATES ELECTED. At a Republican caucus in Belfast Saturday evening the following named persons were elected delegates to the District Convention for Waldo and Knox counties, to be held on the 13th inst. for the purpose of choosing a delegate and alternate to the Chicago Convention: I M Boardman, J. G Brooks, S L. Milliken, W C Marshall, P. O. Hersey, Calvin Hervey, A. D. Chase, M. P. Woodcock, W. C. Poor, J D Tucker, P. L. Strout, W B Rankin, G. B Ferguson, J. C. Thompson.

THE UNION HOSE COMPANY. The Union Hose Company last evening voted to purchase a new uniform, and a committee of seven was appointed to open subscriptions and make contracts. The uniforms are to consist of the regulation shirt and fire hat, and it is proposed to procure the new style helmet now being used in all the larger cities. It is expected that the Wm. Penn Hose Company, of Salem, will visit here this summer and the Union boys want to make a respectable appearance. A committee will wait on our citizens for subscriptions and it is hoped that the boys will be well received.

SWINDLING. Some time ago an officer caught a fellow swindling French Canadians at the railroad station in Portland. He would pick out those passing through the town who could not speak English, offer to act as interpreter and buy tickets for them, and then sell them tickets that were valueless or that failed to take them to their destination. Lately the fellow purchased tickets for Rochester for two victims, for which he charged them three dollars each and gave them slips of card which he made himself. This latter case will go before the grand jury this week as the men who were victimized can be procured to appear against their false friend. Other cases of swindling will be added to this list and he will probably suffer for the whole lot as one case.

RETIREMENT OF AN EDITOR. We had intended to make earlier reference to the retirement of an esteemed friend, Mason W. Wilder, Esq., from the position of editor of the Machias Republican, which he has so creditably filled for the past eighteen years. During that period the Republican, under Mr Wilder's guidance, has done a yeoman's service for the Republican cause and its columns have been true to the principles of enlightenment and progress. Mr. Wilder bears with him the respect and esteem of the fraternity, and we hope the paper may continue worthy of the character it obtained under his editorial management. There is no change in the ownership, and the proprietors, C O Furbush & Co will keep the paper up to the mark.

IMPROVEMENTS. Street Commissioner Wingate now has his men at work making some marked improvements in different parts of the city. One crew is at work at Davenport Square, just below the Bangor House stable. For a long time this square has been used as sort of a headquarters for debris of all kinds, and has been a great nuisance to those people who live just back of it, on First street as well as an eye sore to every one riding on the Hampden road. This rubbish is now being removed and the lot graded, and ere long the square will present a most respectable appearance. Another crew is at work on the city lot at the head of Broadway. This land was presented to the city some time ago on the condition that it should be made into a park but until the present time it has never been touched.

CHILDREN'S MEETING AT BUCKSPORT. The Reform Club and Ladies' Aid Societies arranged a rich entertainment for Sunday afternoon. The "forest" scenery was displayed, and a rich profusion of plants and flowers gave the stage a fascinating appearance. A large number of boys and girls in holiday attire, filled the platform and as many more occupied the front seats. Mr. A. H. Genn called the meeting to order and introduced Mr. T. C. Willey as the President of the day. The singing was by the audience, led by Mrs. A. F Page at the piano and two cornets played by Frank L. Collins, of Portland, and his brother W. F. Collins. of Bucksport. After prayer by Rev. V. P. Wardwell, of Orrington the following programme by the children was presented. A dialogue by two boys and two girls; "The little man," by Georgie Stover; Song, "Temperance folks are crowding so," by Victor Wardwell; "The auction sale," by Charlie Tillock; "Who killed Tom Roper," by ten little boys, Song, "The drunkard's child," by Flora Webster; "The rumselling grocer," by Oscar Kalish; Dialogue, by Eddie Whitmore and Carrie Wardwell; "The fast young man" by Mell Wardwell; Song, "Evening prayer," by Eva Hall, (four years old); remarks by Rev. V. P. Wardwell, D. H. Sherman and G. W. Hurbert. The pledge was presented by Addie Whitmore and several names were added to the many hundreds already obtained by our club. The whole was a grand success.

The Stoddard Lectures

Another full house greeted Mr. Stoddard on the occasion of his third lecture, at Norombega Hall, last evening. He led his willing hearers to Russia, the land of Siberian coldness, the country of magnificent wealth and of pitiable squalor in juxtaposition. The main feature in the lecture was a description of St. Petersburg, the grand achievement of Peter the Great, rising from the marshes of Finland. It is indeed a sepulcher, for in the building of the foundation levies were made upon 40 000 workmen annually. The real and the sham in the magnificent buildings were pointed out—the palaces, temples, churches and other grand edifices. From the palace of the unhappy Czar, at St. Petersburg, 700 feet in length, we are transported to the summer residences of the Autocrat, and wonder that amid such superlative magnificence and prodigal luxury, and with a salary of $25,000 daily, the great monarch should be unhappy or fearful of conspiracies against his life. A walk through the grounds, the galleries and the corridors of the Hermitage closed the evening's entertainment. The lecture was really more instructive than either of the others, Mr Stoddard defining with great minuteness the manners and customs of the people, and the various scenes through which he passed under the summer sky of that Siberian latitude.

The Four-Masted Schooner Weybosset

A WHIG reporter visited the four masted schooner Weybosset now loading ice at High Head for New York, yesterday afternoon, and was very courteously received by Capt Rogers, who showed him about the vessel. This is the only craft of the kind in the United States and she has been visited by a large number of our citizens since her arrival in this port. The Weybosset was formerly a steamer, and is about six hundred tons burden. She is supplied with a small engine, about eight horse power, which does all the heavy work, such as hoisting the anchor and sails, so that she only carries four men before the mast, which makes quite a saving in the expense of running her. Her rigging, an invention of her owner, Nehemiah Gibson of East Boston, is made of iron bars set in rubber cushions, that yield to the strain brought to bear on the rigging, and Capt Rogers thinks it superior to the old style. Then she has four masts so that while she carries the same amount of canvas as other vessels of the same size, it is divided up into smaller pieces thereby making it easier to handle, and at the same time saving the canvas itself, as the strain on the small sails is not near so great as in ordinary vessels. The schooner is very fast and works admirably. Her cabin is large and the officers quarters neat and exceedingly comfortable. Capt. Rogers thinks this class of vessels is destined to become very popular in the coasting business, and informs the reporter that Messrs Goss & Sawyer, of Bath, are now building a four masted schooner. The Weybosset carries about one thousand tons of ice.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

The House of Capt. Wentworth, at Orrington, Seriously Damaged—Buildings Damaged at Belfast and Vicinity—A Heavy Shower at Garland.

The house of Capt. Geo. W. Wentworth, at South Orrington, was struck by lightning Sunday morning at about four o'clock, brief mention of which was made in yesterday's WHIG. The fluid entered one of the chimneys, scattering the bricks about the attic and tearing off the finish on one end of the house, as well as some of the rafters. It then passed through the rooms in the second story, breaking the top of an air-tight stove into four pieces and scattering things about in wild confusion. From here it passed into the rooms on the lower floor where a stove was broken and the frame of a large painting entirely ruined. It then went into the cellar, removed one of the foundation stones and passed into the ground, which was plowed up for some distance.

Capt. Wentworth was in the barn at the time milking his cows and was thrown down by the shock. His wife and son were in the house but escaped uninjured. The latter discovered that the house was on fire and called his father and together they extinguished the flames.

The house of Otis Small, at Orrington Corner, was also damaged by lightning at about six o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Sunday night the vicinity of Belfast was the scene of a violent thunder-storm. Lightning struck a barn on the premises of Capt. R. H. Coombs, on Northport avenue, doing, however, but little damage. It also struck a large tree standing in the front yard of Mrs Lewis O. Fernald, on Salmond street. The air was charged with electricity, and several persons in the last-named vicinity experienced slight shocks. It is also reported that a dwelling house in Searsport was struck by lightning and consumed.

Sunday morning at about three o'clock a thunder shower passed over Garland Village. There was almost a continuous blaze of chain lightning. One bolt struck an apple tree, within four rods of A. M. Haskell's house and within six rods of Lewis Knight's tearing off the limbs and tracing its course down the trunk to the ground, where it tore up the soil and buried itself. It is supposed that the lightning must have struck in the forests near by as there was many sharp reports that seemed near.

INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION.

THE INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION AT SIDNEY, AUSTRALIA, AND THE DAVIS SEWING MACHINE.

[From the Watertown Daily Times]

The Davis Sewing Machine Company of this city, has received a letter from Mr F. J. Newton, who has been representing them at the exhibition in Sidney, Australia, informing them that the Davis machine had received the highest award, and that it was the only sewing machine placed in the first class. The different machines on trial at the exhibition comprised those manufactured by about twenty of the leading manufacturers in America and other countries. The trial of the machine and examination of the judges was continued for a full month, and it is undoubtedly true that the merits of each machine were never more fully developed. Those acquainted with the Davis in this country, are not at all surprised at a verdict placing it pre eminent. In this instance it cannot be claimed by other manufacturers that their machine received an award of equal merit, the Davis being the only one placed in the first class. The second place was given to a machine of American manufacture, and the third to one manufactured in Canada. In connection with the foregoing, it is interesting to note what is being done by the Davis Sewing Machine Co. To their present large manufactory they are adding an additional ninety feet, making their main building nearly five hundred feet in length. Machinery has already been purchased, and will be placed in position and set to work as early in the spring as possible. Their orders for machines are far ahead of production. The growth and prosperity of the company is richly deserved because of the excellence of its productions, and adding as it does very largely to the prosperity of our beautiful city. We all feel proud of its well deserved victory.

MARK TWAIN ON BLUE JAYS

Mr "Mark Twain's" two volumes of European travel entitled "The Tramp Abroad, contain his estimate of the blue jay With his well known proclivity for modesty the author presents this estimate in the words of a certain "Jim" Baker, a California miner "There's more to a blue jay than any other creature He has got more moods and more different kinds of feelings than any other creature, and mind you, whatever a blue jay feels he can put into language And no mere common-place language, either, but rattling out and out look talk—and bristling with metaphor too—just bristling And as for command of language—why you never see a blue jay get stuck for a word No man ever did They just boil out of him And another thing I've noticed a good deal there's no bird, or cow or anything that uses as good grammar as a blue jay You may say a cat uses good grammar Well, a cat does—but you let a cat get to pulling fur with another cat on a shed nights and you'll hear grammar that will give you the lockjaw Ignorant people think it's the noise which fighting cats make that is so aggravating, but it ain't so it's the sickening long grammar they use Now I've never heard a jay use bad grammar but very seldom and when they do they are as ashamed as a human, they shut right down and leave

Nobody can call a jay a bird Well so he is, in a measure—because he's got feathers on him and don't belong to no church, perhaps, but otherwise he is just as much a human as you be And I'll tell you for why A jay's gifts and instincts and feelings and interests cover the whole ground A jay can't get any more principle than a Congressman A jay will lie a jay will steal a jay will deceive a jay will betray and four times out of five a jay will go back on his clemency promise The scarcedness of an obligation is a thing which you can't seem into no blue jay's head Now on top of all this there's another thing a jay can outswear any gentleman in the mines You think a cat can swear Well a cat can, but you give a bluejay a subject that call for his reserve powers and where is your cat? Don't talk to me—I know too much about this thing And there's yet another thing in the one little particular of scolding—a jay is good, clean out and-out scolding—a blue jay can lay over anything human or divine Yes sir a jay is everything that a man is A jay can cry, a jay can laugh a jay can feel shame a jay can reason and plan and discuss, a jay has got a sense of humor a jay knows when he is an ass just as well as you do—maybe better If a jay ain't human, he'd better take in his sign that's all
